

Christine Morlet's bio

Christine MORLET is a Professional Keynote Speaker and keynote speaking coach, member of the Global Speakers Federation. She travels from the French Riviera!

She is the first female speaker who earns the CSP designation in France (2012).

Her experience includes 30 years of success in international influencing skills: negotiations, public speaking and leaders' coaching of fortune 500 companies.

Christine allowed hundreds of senior executives to improve their presentation & negotiation skills to create much better impact and become memorable.

Her customers say that she can transform average communicators into uncontested leaders and basic negotiators into top earning superstars!